

24TH ANNUAL LABOR RALLY OPENS TODAY

Resolutions Urge Health
Unemployment Insurance,
Minimum Wage
CALGARY, Nov. 28.—Adoption of the 24-hour working week in Alberta would mean employment of an additional 5,000 persons, declared Fred J. White, of Calgary, president of the Alberta Federation of Labor, here today.

Pleading at the opening of the 24th annual convention, President White told the delegates a resolution advocating the 24-hour week and a minimum wage for state workers would be placed before the assembly.

He expressed regret that some of the delegates looked upon state employees as charity rather than as a right.

Some judges "struggled" along on $10,000 a year and were paid on $12,000 a year, he declared. Others got $5,000 a year and $6,000 pension. "But relief recipients, after not only 25 years but sometimes 30 years of service, get $5, $10 or $15 a month," he said.

Resolutions urging establishment of health and unemployment insurance and a minimum wage were considered.

It will also be urged an amendment be made to the Old Age Pensions Act by the federal government to provide for the grant of pension to all persons over 60 and that property assessments of $2,500 be provided for in the act.

MINIMUM WAGE
An eight-hour day and 48-hour week for hotel and restaurant employees is urged in a resolution sponsored by the Calgary local of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees International Alliance. It is also requested the Alberta government set a minimum wage of $12.50 a week, exclusive of deductions for meals and laundry, for restaurant workers.

The Lehigh Valley Workers Union will seek affiliation with the Federation. An application for affiliation will be placed before the meeting.

TO HEAR REPORTS
Officers' reports and appointment of committees will be the order of business for the opening session. The Alberta Federation of Labor was organized in 1912 with the exception of three years during the Great War has met annually in convention.

French Reds Said Responsible For Labor Troubles

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Premier Daladier last night accused "certain chiefs of an international organization" of fomenting the new strike wave in France. He charged them with aiming to "launch mass action against the French republic" through Wednesday's scheduled general strike, called by the General Confederation of Labor in protest against his economic and financial recovery decrees.

In making the accusation the premier did not mention Communist leaders by name, but political circles said his meaning was clear to everyone who listened to the nationally broadcast speech.

The premier threw down the gauntlet to the organization whose "policy, points and slogan," he said, during Thursday's riotous scenes at the Renault automobile plant here, betrayed their political origin.

He announced the government would fight the strike to the last ditch. "The government," he declared, "intends to accomplish finally its duty toward the nation." Daladier characterized strike action as "blackmail" against the government and an attempt to force it to capitulate under threat.

"I am determined not to use such methods and resolutely to answer by all of the republic's laws," he said.

Daladier said he was answerable for his decrees to parliament and to the nation.

French war veterans appealed to Premier Daladier to take the labor unions today to settle differences and avert a general strike.

The National Confederation of War Veterans, representing 5,000,000 members, called upon the premier to "seek all means of raising the nation's emotions and of appeasing the social conflict."

RECONSIDER DANGER
The labor unions were asked to "reconsider the danger of general action, which, pushed to the limit, would compromise the security of the nation."

Both Daladier and the labor unions, which are backed by the Social and Communist parties, went dogmatically ahead, however, with plans for and against the country-wide strike scheduled for Wednesday.

REMAIN DEAD, DUMER
Although Daladier was given deferment to mobilize 121,000 railroad employees into the army to keep them working, the employees were ordered by their labor leaders to remain dead.

MISSION WORK DESCRIBED BY COAST OFFICER

Rev. A. D. Greene Addresses Congregations Here Sunday

Speaking at St. Paul's church Sunday morning and at All Saints Pro-cathedral in the evening, Rev. A. D. Greene, superintendent of the Canadian Maritime Mission, told of the work the mission is doing in bringing medical relief and spiritual help to families far from the centres of metropolitan civilization along the British Columbia coast.

Mr. Greene spoke at the Kiwanis club luncheon Monday and leaves Monday night for Vancouver, where he will board his mission boat for further work in this field.

VARIED POPULATION
He said that the mission had a three-fold approach to the people which included the medical, the social and the spiritual. The population is made up of thousands of loggers, settlers who have moved to the coast, and the people who are the most part live on the small islands and in the mountains.

OXFORD GROUP MEETING ENDS AT KINGSTON

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 28.—The annual re-orientation conference sponsored by the Oxford Group of Kingston, attended by 1,000 members of the movement from all over the continent, ended yesterday when Mrs. Emily Newell Hall, author and former vice-president of the National Democratic Committee in the United States, was a principal speaker.

"Responsibility is resting on Canada and the United States to solve the problems of democracy for the world," Mrs. Hall said. "That is why I am here. Democracy is not a common loyalty to God, freedom without discipline, or faith without loyalty to God, freedom with the discipline of moral restraints is peace."

A message read to the conference from Hon. Norman Rogers, Canadian Minister of Finance, discussed international and labor relations, said in part: "No one can doubt that such relations can be greatly improved by the principles of tolerance and Christian charity."

Failure Of Monsoon Puts Bihar District In Pitiable Condition

Thousands of acres of grain and fodder crops have been lost. The people are suffering from lack of food and shelter. Many have died of starvation.

The British rule families were threatened and appalling. In 1934, for instance, while white and British rule families were left bare of inhabitants at least the dead lay in pits for the birds.

Gradually British administration built up famine relief organizations. In 1934, 47,000 square miles and nearly 60,000 people were affected. At one period 45,000 were being supported by the state.

GOALS, SARGENT TO EASTERN GOALS FINAL

Canadians Defeat Wings For First Win of Season

George Mantha Sparks Scorching Third Period Drive With Two Goals To End Lengthy Losing Streak

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—Montreal Canadiens scored their first victory of the National Hockey League season last night, defeating Detroit Red Wings 3-2 at Olympia.

A crowd of 7,000 saw Canadiens put on a scorching finish in the final period sparked by George Mantha, who scored two goals that left last night Canadiens had lost seven games and tied one.

After a lull after the third period opening, Canadiens were fired as Mantha scored first. Claude Bourque was a man short as Stuart Evans scored the only penalty of the game.

Late in the period, "Toe" Blake got the tying goal.

MANTHA STARS
Less than a minute after the third period opening, Canadiens went in front when Mantha got his first goal. Detroit got back in the running a few minutes later with a furious five-man assault that produced a goal by Wares. Nine minutes later Mantha counted the winner.

Chicago Black Hawks Force Three-Way Tie 1-0 Triumph Over New York Rangers

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Chicago Black Hawks precipitated a three-way tie at the head of the National Hockey League last night as Johnny Gottselig's late goal gave them a 1-0 win over Rangers to move them alongside Boston Bruins and New York Americans.

Gottselig's late goal came less than two minutes from the end of the game witnessed by a crowd of 12,000.

The triumph stung for the 6-4 beating the Chicago team took here from Americans Saturday night and marked the first time this season Rangers were held scoreless.

Gottselig's tally put him in the scoring leadership of the league. It was a beautiful goal, one that he skated at terrific speed after taking a pass from Desjardis.

Wear New York Americans Sink Beneath Boston Bruins' Onslaught For 8-2 Trouncing

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The league-leading New York Americans were deluged under an 8-2 defeat last night by Boston as the Bruins drew even with them in the National Hockey League standing.

Americans appeared weary from playing three games in four nights as Bruins averaged their only defeat of the season here, 12,000 fans.

After Bruins drove home three goals in the first 14 minutes of play, two of them by big Dick Clapper, Americans threw caution aside and kept four and five runs on the attack during the remainder of the game.

COSTLY
Those aggressive tactics were costly, for the visitors were trapped five times as Bruins piled up the score. Ray Gottlieb scored twice and the other four goals were driven past Goalie Earl Earlerson by Bill Cowley, Gordon Pennington, Conroy Weiland and Neil Hill.

Late in the third period, Nels Stenlund was forced into a goal by backboards and he fired an angle shot that slipped into the Boston net.

Rudolph "Bingo" Kampman Turns In Starry Performance As Leafs Win 5-0

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—Toronto Maple Leafs quieted a rushing, hard-hitting defenseman with crowd appeal may be over with development of Rudolph (Bingo) Kampman into first class National Hockey League timber.

Kampman caught the eye of the 10,721 customers more often than any other player Saturday night at Maple Leaf Gardens when Toronto whipped Detroit Red Wings 5-0 to jump back into the thick of the fight for first place. "Dutch the Clutch" scored the first goal.

After a full first period Bingo led the Detroit back into the game with an a-ko-hi-ho scoring shot from the blue line. With Leafs a

THE GATE OF PARADISE: Papalton or Alphonse is a little town in the Montgomery District of the Punjab, India. It is famous for containing the shrine of Farid ud Din, a Mohammedan saint who died here in 1265. Farid purified himself, it is related, by a diet of constant fasting, until he could eat almost nothing but sugar in his mouth. Pilgrims all over India, Afghanistan and Central Asia flock here during the month of Moharram. On the principal afternoon and night of this festival, 80,000 people try to enter the shrine through a very narrow door in the adjoining wall. The door is known as the Gate of Paradise, because of the belief that whoever can force his way through the narrow opening during the prescribed hours, is sure of a free entrance into heaven. The crush is very great, and severe injuries result from the great crowding.

Loss of Stirling Fails Stop Imperials

Sarnia's Mighty "Bummer" Ousted From Game for Slugging Montreal Player—Capitalize on Fumbles

SARNIA, Nov. 28.—The myth that Sarnia Imperials would wander aimlessly in the football wilderness without Hugh "Bummer" Stirling has been shattered in the wake of Sarnia's coronation as Ontario Union champions for the eighth successive season.

The Imperial Army, threatening all teams to disintegrate in the face of strong opposition, marched back to the throne room Saturday by drubbing Montreal National 15-0 in a victory-fought game before 4,000 fans in a night snowfall and on a slippery, rock-hard ground. They won the total-points series 36-8, having beaten Nationals 9-5 in Montreal last week.

Sarnia's victory qualifying them for the eastern championship final against Toronto Argonauts in Toronto next Saturday, was even more impressive than the score indicated. They played 39 of the 60 minutes without the great Stirling, a tribute to the team's depth.

After Stirling left Imperials coasted through the game, despite the fact that they had a full complement of offensive and defensive players. With the injured Archie McWatters in the "Bummer" place, they held Nats scoreless and won 39-0, a tribute to the team's depth.

Weird Succession of Fumbles Mar Ottawa Battle; Riders' "Big" Line Fails In Pinches

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—Outgoing Ottawa Rough Riders, most of the way and never missing a scoring chance, Toronto Argonauts rode to a victory here Saturday to win the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union title for the second consecutive year and advance into the eastern Canadian final against Sarnia Imperials.

Seven, 1937 Canadian champions, kicked all their points in the latter battle before a crowd of 12,000 fans to take the second game of the two-game, best-of-three series, and win the 1937 title. Argos won the first contest in Toronto 21-0.

Playing on a granite-like gridiron with a numbing wind and the temperature about 10 degrees below zero, the Riders' "Big" line failed to hold the Argos out of the end zone. The Riders' "Big" line failed to hold the Argos out of the end zone.
